School's Open – Drive Carefully

With schools in Flossmoor now open, the Flossmoor Police Department reminds motorists to be especially careful. Motorists are encouraged to be extremely cautious and to be on the look out for students and school buses.

Children get caught up in the excitement of the back to school season and forget to look out for cars. For that reason, it is best to slow down when you are nearing school zones and residential areas. Motorists are reminded that state law requires motorists to stop when buses are loading and unloading students and to obey school speed zones.

Flossmoor Police will continue to watch for these types of violations.

EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

Flossmoor Welcomes Two New Businesses

This Summer, Flossmoor welcomed two new businesses to our downtown area that bring a new twist to the services they provide.

Flossmoor Stick-e Fitness Cooperative Studio, owned by Flossmoor resident Libby Andrews, is an expansion to the wildly successful Stick-e fitness brand. The studio is designed as a co-op for fitness instructors to offer a variety of group fitness classes. The class sizes are small and intimate ensuring a more personalized and rewarding fitness experience. Beyond Fitness yoga, Zumba and bootcamp style classes are currently being offered.

The studio is open during class times. Please visit www.stick-e.com to view current class schedules, the description of the classes and the contact information for each instructor.

Yesterday's Gentlemen Barber Shoppe & Spa brings back old-fashioned barbershop experience with a modern touch. The masculine environment along with professional staff and master barbers who take pride in their profession will resonate with male customers who want top-quality services at affordable prices.

Yesterday's Gentlemen offers haircuts, hot towel lather shaves, nail services, massages, skin therapy and shoe shine drop-off service.

Turn Back Your Clock and Change Your Fire Alarms

The Flossmoor Fire Department wants to remind you to check your smoke alarm when you set your clocks! Smoke alarms save lives and cut the risk of dying in a fire in half.

The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) reports that most homes (96%) have at least one smoke alarm, but you need to ensure they are working. In more than half of reported home fires, smoke alarms were present but did not operate. Be safe! Test your smoke alarm regularly.

Children's Halloween Party

The Flossmoor Halloween Party is a great event for families to dress up in costume and have ghoulish fun. Come to the Annual Children's Halloween Party sponsored by the Flossmoor Volunteer Fire Department on Monday, October 31 from 7:00 - 8:30 p.m. for preschoolers through 3rd graders at Parker Junior High gymnasium.

Flossmoor Resident Earns Perfect Score

In June, administrators at Homewood-Flossmoor High School received the results of the spring ACT tests and were very pleased to find that one student - Jordan Pounder of Flossmoor — earned a perfect score: 36.

“This is a great accomplishment for Jordan, since less than one tenth of one percent (0.1%) of all students nationally earn a perfect ACT score,” said David Kush, Homewood-Flossmoor’s department chair of assessment. “In addition to being a source of pride, a perfect score opens doors for both college acceptance as well as scholarship opportunities. Jordan’s score also affirms that H-F is an excellent school, where students are provided with the staff, programs and resources needed to maximize their potential.”

Pounder said when he learned of his perfect score he almost didn’t believe what he was seeing and that it took awhile for him to fully recognize his accomplishment. At the same time, however, he realizes that it is still just one test score.

“I know that success does not come just from being able to test well and that colleges do not just look at one aspect,” he said. “I am just proud that I was fortunate enough to do my best on this part of the spectrum and hope that my other credentials will be able to get me into the schools that I hope to attend.”

Pounder’s top choice for his post-Homewood-Flossmoor education is Stanford University, but he also plans to apply to several other schools including Princeton University, Harvard University, Yale University, University of Pennsylvania, California Institute of Technology, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, University of Michigan, Purdue, and, locally, Northwestern University and the University of Illinois - Champaign-Urbana.

Pounder’s other credentials at Homewood-Flossmoor include participating on the boys’ golf team, lacrosse team, the National Honor Society and, this fall, he will become the president of the school’s DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) organization for the 2011/12 school year. His involvement in DECA — and a summer internship at the Chicago Board of Trade — has sparked an interest in business as a potential career field. However, Pounder said he also enjoys math and science, so he may consider the engineering field.

“We at H-F are very proud of Jordan and look forward to his future achievements,” said Kush.

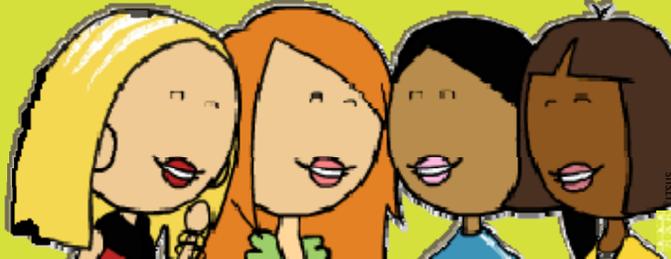

H-F High School Senior Golden Card Club

If you are age 62 or better and live in School District 233, you are welcome to join Homewood-Flossmoor High School’s Golden Card Club. Club members are entitled to free or low-cost admission to the school’s cultural and sporting events throughout the school year. Club members -- and all district seniors -- are invited to a free breakfast buffet hosted by the high school on Friday, Oct. 28. For more information, call 708-799-3000 or email ncastagna@hf233.org.

Electronics Recycling Day

The HF Green Team is hosting an Electronics Recycling Day at HF High School on October 22 from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Many electronics contain materials that can be repurposed even if the entire unit is out of date or not functional. If thrown in a landfill, some electronics components can even be harmful to the environment. This is why the HF Green Team has partnered with Vintage Tech Recyclers to help residents safely and responsibly recycle their electronics.

Put Your Garden to Bed

Brought to you by The Prairie Godmothers

Don't Hurry:

Give the leaves a chance to fall and give your plants a chance to die or go dormant. The rush to put gardens to bed in September is premature. Leaves are still hanging on and plants aren't quite ready for bed. Savor the last few weeks of the season and get serious about cleanup in October or November.

Start Dreaming:

This is the right time to consider planting trees and shrubs. The sun is just right and you don't need to worry about excessive heat. There are many native shrubs and trees that work wonders to improve your soil, reduce your water bill and add interest and appeal to your yard. Can you say Cercis canadensis? How about Amelanchier interior? Both are exciting natives that dig deep and bloom beautifully. And don't forget to plant bulbs by October for Spring blooms! We love daffodils that come in hues of yellow and gold with surprising splashes of salmon, red, orange, and white.

Start Working:

September, October and November are the months to put your garden to bed with a few simple things.

- Clean and repair your garden tools and accessories instead of buying new. Sand and paint wooden handles, oil and sharpen dull blades and sterilize your planters and pots in the dishwasher (no soap, please).

- Be careful if you choose to prune your trees and shrubs – don't clip the Spring bloomers!

- Re-edge sloppy garden areas with a sharp shovel. The ground is just moist enough to cut a clean edge with ease.

- Start to turn the compost bin. It's been cooking outside all Summer and it's time to shake it up!

- Apply compost to garden beds. Topdress the beds with a Fall application of compost, about 2" deep.

- Move houseplants indoors. When nights dip below 50°, move your plants to a shaded spot for a few weeks to get them comfortable with less light. When you're ready to bring them in, mix one gallon of water with 3 tablespoons of liquid soap and bathe the plant.

- Use finely chopped grass clippings and fallen leaves as a topcoat in your garden areas. They will protect plants and add nutrients to your soil while they decompose over the long Winter.

THE END OF ER WAITING.

Flood Preparation Can Save Time and Money

Floods are the #1 natural disaster in the United States. Every home is at risk of some form of flooding, which can result in anything from heavy rain to melting snow. Floods can happen any time and any place. And they can happen fast. So whether you live near the water or not, you should always be ready. Here are some important things you can do to prepare.

After getting flood insurance, there are several measures you can take to minimize losses in your home and ensure your family's safety.

1. Safeguard your possessions.

Create a personal flood file containing information about all your possessions and keep it in a secure place, such as a safe deposit box or waterproof container. This file should have:

- A copy of your insurance policies with your agent's contact information.
- A household inventory: For insurance purposes, be sure to keep a written and visual (i.e., videotaped or photographed) record of all major household items and valuables, even those stored in basements, attics or garages. Create files that include serial numbers and store receipts for major appliances and electronics. Have jewelry and artwork appraised. These documents are critically important when filing insurance claims. For more information visit www.knowyourstuff.org.

■ Copies of all other critical documents, including finance records or receipts of major purchases.

2. Prepare your house.

■ First make sure your sump pump is working and then install a battery-operated backup in case of a power failure. Installing a water alarm will also let you know if water is accumulating in your basement.

- Clear debris from gutters and downspouts.
- Anchor any fuel tanks.
- Raise your electrical components (switches, sockets, circuit breakers, and wiring) at least 12 inches above your home's projected flood elevation.
- Place the furnace, water heater, washer, and dryer on cement blocks at least 12 inches above the projected flood elevation.

■ Move furniture, valuables, and important documents to a safe place.

3. Develop a family emergency plan.

■ Create a safety kit with drinking water, canned food, first aid, blankets, a radio, and a flashlight.

■ Post emergency telephone numbers by the phone and teach your children how to dial 911.

■ Plan and practice a flood evacuation route with your family. Know safe routes from home, work, and school that are on higher ground.

■ Ask an out-of-state relative or friend to be your emergency family contact.

■ Have a plan to protect your pets.

Questions?

Contact the Office of the Public Works Director at 708.957.4100. Staff can provide guidance and information pertaining to flooding. In addition, they can answer the following questions concerning the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM):

- Your community number
- Your panel number and suffix
- The date of the FIRM
- FIRM zone of particular property
- Base flood elevation of properties
- The services listed above are especially important to insurance agents, real estate agents, lenders, and current or potential homeowners. If you have further questions, call the Public Works Service Center at 708.957.4100. You can also visit the website at www.floodsmart.gov which is the official site for the National Flood Insurance Program. Here you will be able to learn the basics, know your flood risk, NFIP in the community, estimate your premium, and find an agent.
